The HDSK HDM Accessory Socket Kit supports all Rantec HDM modules. These HDM modules are the basic building blocks used to develop performance based "Power System Solutions" in today's military environment.

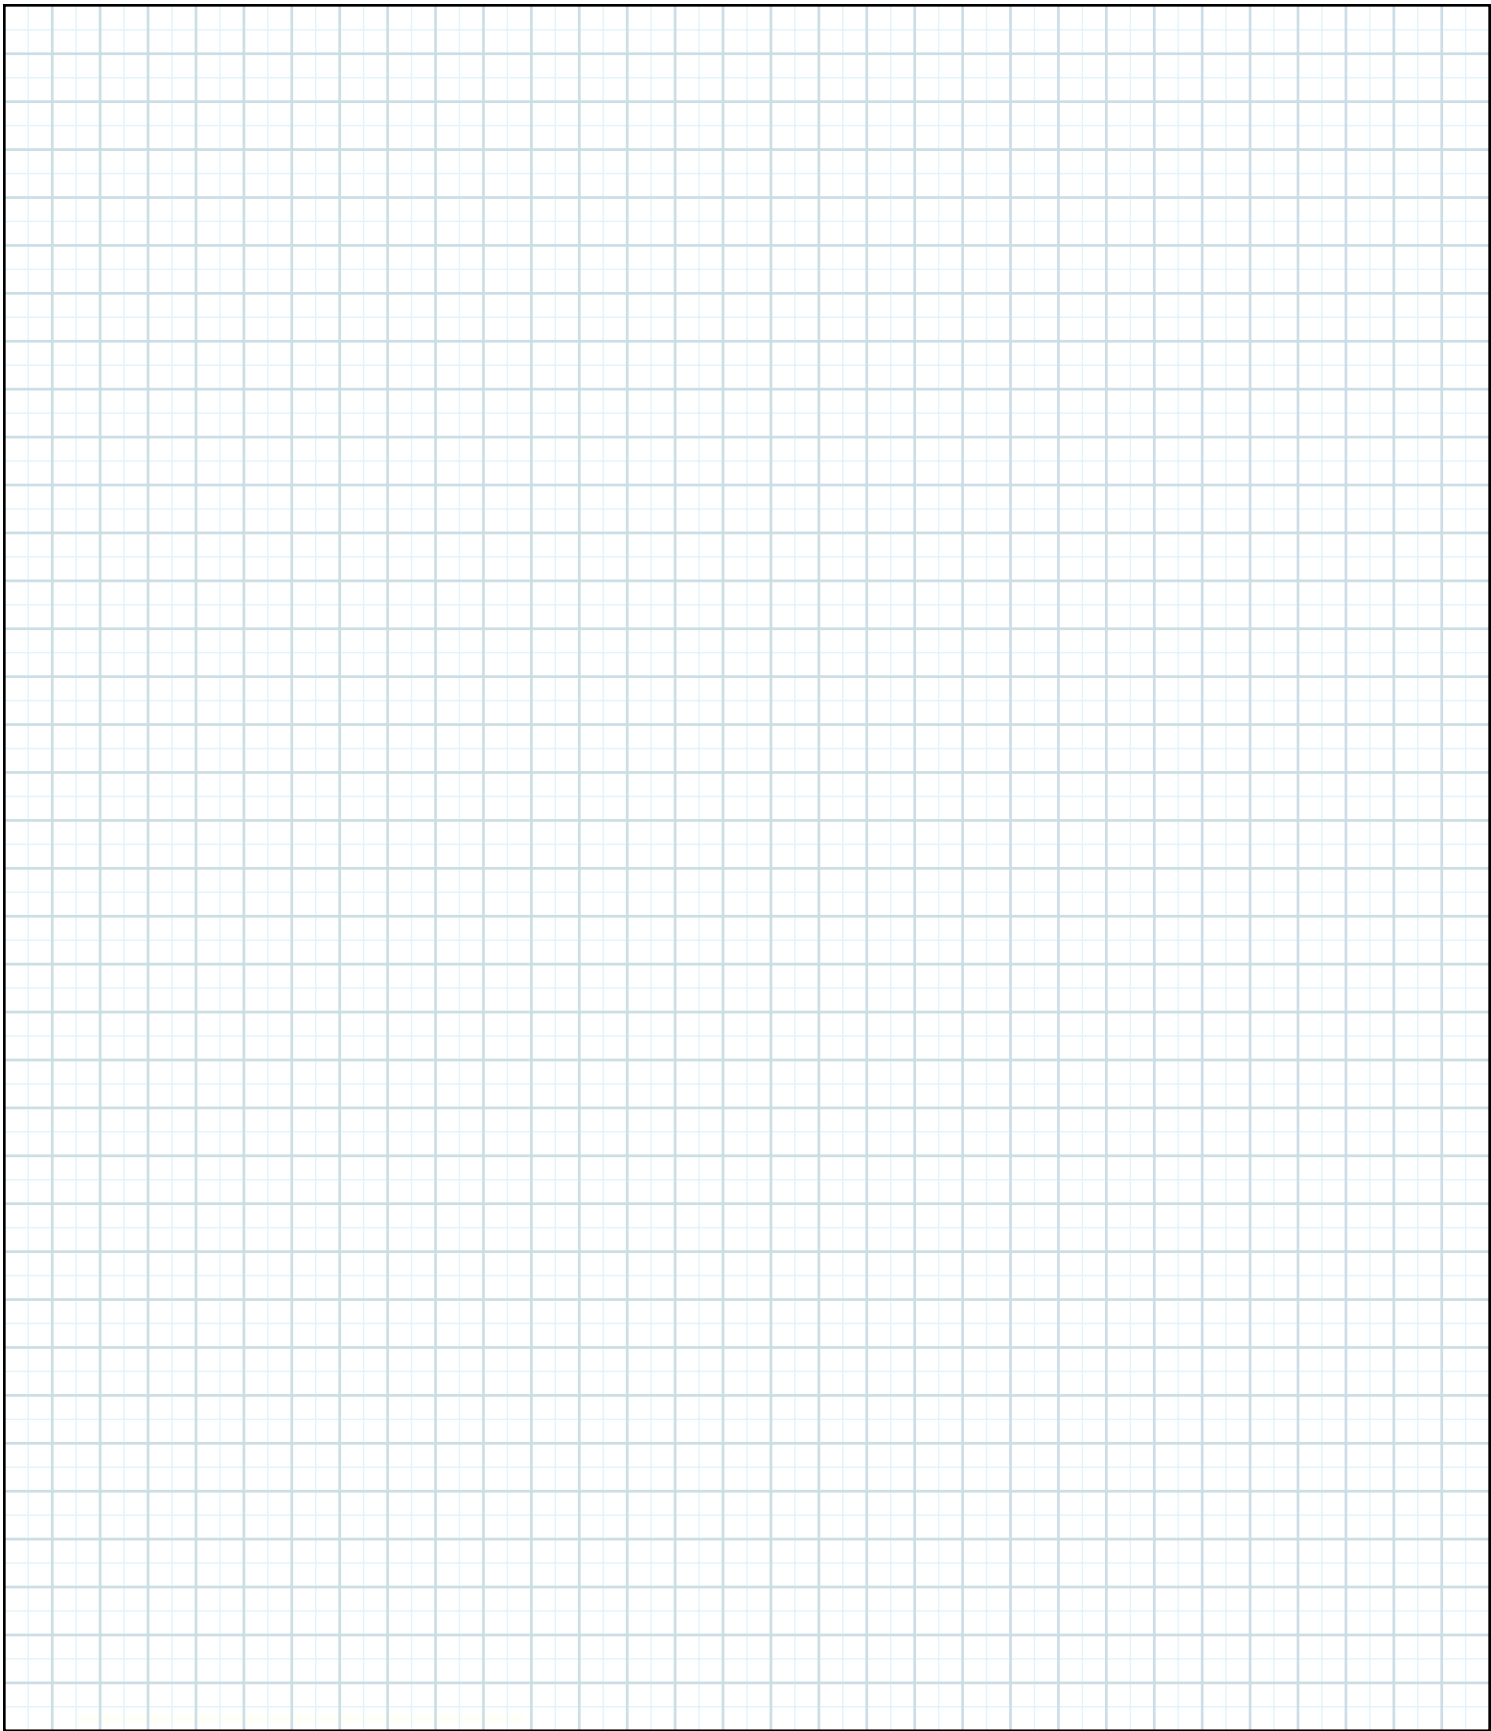

Soldering of wires to sockets prevents damage to module pins during extensive testing and evaluation.

The kits come complete and are reasonably priced. For more information, contact Rantec Marketing.

The Socket Kit is ideal for use in bread board, prototype development, and PWB mounting for plug-in module solutions.
